San Miguel de Allende, Mexico - The 14th edition of the Cuban culture festival, Cubafest SMA, is hosting as of today in the main garden of the Mexican city of San Miguel de Allende, in Guanajuato state, with a large exhibition of handicrafts, books and audiovisual presentations.

The traditional stand Presencia Latinoamericana (Prelasa) with Artex products, in the central district of this World Heritage city, has caused expectations in the people from San Miguel and also foreign and national visitors.

Prelasa director in Mexico, Angel Arcos, told Prensa Latina that a special offer this year includes home accessories stamped with works by 32 artists from the 'Arte en casa' collection.

Cubafest SMA general director, Guadalupe Meza, stressed that this event scheduled until March 19th joins to the festivities for the 115th anniversary of the diplomatic relations between Cuba and Mexico.
